

We took the ultimate wish list...

...then created the ultimate fleet management system.

Before developing Linde's new FleetFOCUS® system, we did a lot of listening. We went to our customers and beyond to find out what fleet management features could make a difference to your business. This wish list became our starting point and now FleetFOCUS is the result. It's the most advanced yet user friendly system available today and has been developed to help you manage your forklift fleet and maximise your business opportunities.

FleetFOCUS requires no set up within your facility and no additional infrastructure. GPRS signals will deliver all the truck data automatically to the Linde server. The necessary hardware is fitted to your Linde truck during manufacture and as soon as the truck is started, essential data is being captured.

FleetFOCUS will help reductions in downtime, OH&S compliance, improve long-term productivity as well as restricting unauthorised use and reducing accidents and damage. And you'll stay in touch with your fleet via continuous wireless 2 way communications.

To find out how FleetFOCUS can help control your fleet and improve your business, contact Linde today.
